

A praiseworthy acknowledgment

We feel honoured to be acknowledged by the nation's most eminent and influential magazine India Today. In its 33rd Anniversary Issue, which records the most memorable and significant events occurred in the past 33 years, India Today mentions LifeCell as one among the 10 Medical Miracles. Read on to find out what it has to say.

SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY ¹⁰
 medical miracles

9 Future Perfect
Stem Cell Banking, 2004

Stem cell banking came of age in 2004 with the launch of the first family cord blood bank in India to usher in the revolutionary breakthrough of umbilical cord stem cell banking. LifeCell in Chennai was opened with a tie-up with Cryo-Cell International, USA, the world's biggest cord blood bank. The cells are banked for 21 years for a fee. "It doesn't present an ethical dilemma unlike the umbilical cord which has always been discarded as biomedical waste" (INDIA TODAY, June 2005).

10 Call For Help
Ambulance Service, 2004
 The introduction of the well-equipped ambulance service

BANDEEP SINGH